

Cookie Policy

Cookies and similar technologies

Document	Cookie Policy
Version	1.0
Effective date	6 September 2026

This policy explains how cookies and similar technologies may be used on the Atlantic Keys Ltd website and how visitors can manage their choices.

1. What cookies are

Cookies are small files or similar storage technologies placed on or accessed from your device when you use a website. They can support essential website functions, remember preferences, measure website performance or enable third-party features.

2. The categories we may use

Category	Purpose	Consent
Strictly necessary	Security, form submission, session and core website functions.	Usually not required where legally exempt
Analytics / performance	Understanding visits and how pages are used, for example through analytics tools where enabled.	Required before non-essential analytics are set
Functionality	Remembering preferences or providing enhanced features.	Usually required if not strictly necessary
Security / spam prevention	Protecting forms and the website from abuse, including technologies such as reCAPTCHA where used.	Depends on implementation and applicable exemption
Third-party embeds	Maps, social media, video or other embedded services that may set their own cookies or access technologies.	Required where non-essential

3. Consent and your choices

We should not set non-essential cookies or similar technologies before obtaining valid consent. Visitors should be able to accept or refuse non-essential technologies and change their preferences later through the website's cookie settings or consent mechanism.

4. Third-party services

The website may use third-party services such as Google Analytics, Google Maps, Google reCAPTCHA or social-media features depending on the pages and services enabled. These providers may process information under their own privacy and cookie terms. The website's live cookie controls should reflect the technologies actually in use.

5. Browser controls

Most browsers allow you to delete, block or restrict cookies. Blocking essential cookies may prevent parts of the website from working correctly. Browser controls do not replace the website's responsibility to obtain consent for non-essential storage or access technologies where required.

6. Keeping this policy accurate

Website technology changes over time. Atlantic Keys Ltd should review this policy and its cookie consent settings whenever analytics, advertising, embedded content, chat, security or other third-party tools are added or changed.

This policy is intended to operate alongside our Privacy Policy. It reflects the current UK framework for cookies and similar technologies, including the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations (PECR) and UK data-protection law.
